SCHOOL

Welcome to Parkston, "A great place to grow". We are confident that you will find our community to your liking and the Parkston School District is proud to be an active member of this fine community.

The Parkston School District is a wonderful place for children to attend school. Our students consistently rank above the state average in achievement test scores. I believe this is a direct reflection of the hard work, dedication and devotion of our staff as well as the incredible support and devotion of the community toward the school. Our mission is to "To empower all to succeed in a changing world." I hope that you will stop and visit us, for we would love to show you our facilities and all wonderful curricular and extra curricular programs.

Superintendent
Shayne
McIntosh

Our enrollment is just over 600, which allows us to maintain a most favorable student-teacher ratio. Beginning with the 2008-09 school year, our entire school district will hold North Central accreditation. We operate Parkston Elementary, New Elm Springs Colony School, Old Elm Springs Colony School, Parkston Jr. and Sr. High School, and the Interim School. District wide, technology is a major component in the educational program.

Our "Discovery Center" is the school run integrated preschool program that brings all of the essential community educational assets together under one roof. Head Start, Special Needs Pre-school, Pre-school, and Begingergarden are all part of our Discovery Center. Parkston Elementary is a progressive school, with the children constantly being challenged to perform at their highest levels.

Our Junior/Senior High School has excelled academically as well with co-curricular activities. We offer a wide variety of curricular offerings, including upper level math and science offerings, career and technical education, wonderful fine arts programs, and we are also a part of the Governor's One on One Laptop Initiative.

Our extra curricular offerings are also great. We offer a wide range of activities which include: marching band, jazz band, pep band, drama, vocal, FCCLA, football, volleyball, cross country, golf, basketball, wrestling, and track and field.

Our buildings and grounds are in excellent condition, with the High School being built in the early 1990's and the elementary being built in 2001. With the entire plant being air conditioned, we feel we are able to provide our children with a wonderful learning environment. The district is currently developing a 16-acre plot of land that we envision to one-day hold a community walking path, soccer fields, football fields, and a baseball field.

-The East Park provides a wide range of activities for all ages. Along with the numerous playground equipment, there is also a brick shelter for families to use free of charge for picnics and gatherings. Electricity and water is available for anyone to use. The Parkston Public Pool is located in the East Park as well and is a popular spot for kids to visit during the hot summer months. The pool is fully equipped with a kiddie pool, high dive, low dive, and ranges in depth from 3 feet to 12 feet. Tennis and basketball courts are open for anyone to use, and two ball diamonds provide recreational spots for various baseball and softball teams.

-A must-see attraction can be found at the front of the park. The Veterans Memorial was erected through funding donated by the Veterans Memorial Committee as well other organizations and personal donations. It is dedicated to those local soldiers that paid the ultimate price for our country. It is a wonderful spot to visit on Memorial Day and Veterans' Day when flags and lights adorn the site.

CUB SCOUTS / BOY SCOUTS

The Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts have been a part of the Parkston community for several years. The Parkston Scouts help with a number of events in town each year. Whether it is a pancake feed, scouting for food for our local food pantry, picking up trash, or participating at the Memorial Day ceremony, the Scouts are always happy to help out.

Some of the fun activities the boys can participate in are attending Skyforce or Canaries game in Sioux Falls or creating and pinewood derby car and racing here in Parkston and at the Scout O Rama. And if you enjoy camping with your son, the Scouts is the place for you to be. In the summer you can go to overnight camps, or your son can participate in day camp. At camp the boys participate in activities such as canoeing, shooting BB gun, archery, hiking, and crafts.

Joining the Scouts is a commitment that is shared by the parent and child, but you and your son will make memories that will last a lifetime. The Cub Scout motto is "I promise to do my best, to God and to my country, to help other people and to obey the law of the pack."

You are welcome to join Cub Scouts throughout the year. Boys in first through fifth grade will be notified of fall recruitment at the beginning of the school year. Anyone that would like to help with scouting is encouraged to contact First Dakota at 928-3077. You don't need to have a child in Scouts to be a volunteer.

GIRL SCOUTS

Although Parkston is considered a small town compared to most big cities, there are still many activities offered for both parents and children. Girl Scouts has been a favorite for girls of all ages for some time now.

Girl Scout Brownies (grades 1-3) and Girl Scout Juniors (grades 3-6) are our current active troops. Troop leaders for the Brownies are Christine Perkins and Carrie Heisinger, and troop leader for the Junior Girl Scouts is Gina Stirling.

During our meetings, the girls build character within themselves, develop new friendships, learn and promote social skills, discover community involvement, and are empowered to accept themselves and others. Through new experiences such as field trips, community service, science, and craft projects, the girls grow socially and emotionally. Not only is the Girl Scouts an adventure for the girls, but our adult volunteers discover new ideas about themselves also.

Parkston Girl Scouts is an exciting way for children and adults to meet new friends and become a part of our community.

LIONS CLUB

For the past eighty years, the Parkston Lions Club has followed the motto of Lions International: "We Serve." Today, the local organization is comprised of approximately 25 volunteer men and women principally dedicated to the needs of the blind and serving the local community. The Lions Club generates annual funds by sponsoring the "pancake" day and by managing the baseball concession stand throughout the summer. The club is also the recipient of an annual endowment.

How are funds disbursed? The Parkston Lions Club has disbursed funds to several different organizations across the world and locally over the years. One such organization is The South Dakota Industries for the Blind. This fine organization is located in Sioux Falls and provides employment for approximately 30 vision impaired/disabled employees. The club donated $2,500 to them. Another campaign receiving $8,000 is called "Sight First II". Sight First II is a global campaign that has established goals of funding 2 million cataract surgeries; increasing the number of ophthalmologists trained in Lions affiliated eye care training institutions; training a minimum of 10,000 primary and mid-level eye care personnel; increasing trachoma control activities from five to fifteen countries; and treating 12-15 million people with medication to prevent river blindness.

In the past, the "pancake" and "concession" funds raised by the Lions Club have been used to support such projects as Tsunami Relief, American Legion Boy's State, American Diabetes Association, The South Dakota Lions Foundation, Parkston Community Food Bank, South Dakota Lions Eye Bank, Parkston Library, the Parkston baseball field renovation projects, the Leader Dogs for the Blind program, local Eagle Scout projects, and many other local and state projects. Other disbursements would include assistance to local individuals in need of financial support for eye-related diseases or care.

In 1917, Lions Club International started as one of the smallest "social associations" and now has evolved to a membership of 1.4 million members. This tradition is carried forward with the Parkston Lions Club actively seeking additional new members (men and women). The only criterion necessary for joining is to follow the motto "We Serve" and enjoy the fruits of your donated efforts. If you would like to learn more about the Parkston Lions Club, please contact either Gale Walker or Pat Bowar.

MUSEUM

Parkston has its share of handsome and interesting buildings. Among them, and likely the oldest, is the Neo-Renaissance edifice on First and Main—the Klaus-James Archive and Art Museum. Its date, engraved over the front door on Main Street is a proud 1904. This was the time in the high plains states of interest in such architecture.

The building has a fascinating history as the abstract of the land shows. It was witness to how Parkston grew and changed. Almost—one might say—as a sturdy, steadfast individual who let the events of the Century whirl about him, her, or it!

It all began when David D. Kirk homesteaded the actual land on February 12, 1884. He was issued a Grand Deed "Pursuant Act 24 April 1820." By July 10, 1886, Edward R. Parks, surveyor (note the name), issued a "To Whom It May Concern" platted map of blocks, lots, streets, and alleys. Naturally, he called it Parkston. By August, the whole of Dakota City was moved lock, stock, and barrel to the new town, and the "rest is history."

The Klaus-James Archive and Art Museum presents a collection of excellent paintings and drawings by Bernard Albert James of Dayton, Tennessee. It also houses the manuscript, book, and record collections of Kenneth Klaus, a native of Parkston.

Admission to the museum is free, by appointment.

HISTORY

Prior to 1880, besides the sod shanty of Peter Swartz, very few families were living in the area, but in the spring, immigrants began to arrive. The immigrants built houses, broke land and planted crops.

The summer of 1880 produced little as far as a crop, and the winter of 1880-81 was a hard one. The snow was so deep that many settlers either went on a hand sled to Milltown, which had a flourmill, or stayed at home and ground corn with a coffee mill. The next season brought more settlers, and soon the town of Dakota City sprang up.

In 1885, F.D. Simmons wrote, "Dakota City, though not yet two years old, has several substantial business firms and there is room for more." In March of 1886, the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad was making plans to build a line from Scotland, SD, to Mitchell, SD. F.D. Simmons had expected the railroad to go past Dakota City; however, by April the surveyors of the railroad had apparently bypassed the little city.

In its April 30, 1886, issue, the Dakota City Advance editor F.D. Simmons wrote, "It is reliably reported that the new town (of Parkston) will be laid out in about three weeks and lots will be for sale in six weeks. Then look out for a rush."

From the Dakota City Advance, June 4, 1886: "On Monday morning (May 31) the Advance office was put in readiness for removal to the new town site. Early in the day, L.B. LeGrant and his force of workmen reported on hand ready for duty and by noon had the building raised and supported on wagons. After dinner six horse-drawn teams were hitched to the wagons, and soon the Advance office was being moved toward the coming city. After about two hours time, the building was placed on the new town site; and so the Advance office was the first complete building in the new town."

The first store to be moved from Dakota City to Parkston was the (A.F.) Gimm and (Frank) Weidman's store.

By June 25, Dakota City was mostly all moved to Parkston. The new town boasted six or eight general stores, three or four hardwares, four machine dealers, two or three lumber companies, two restaurants, a barber shop, a meat market, saloons, a bank, livery stables, painters, carpenters, and masons by the dozens, the prospect of a steam mill and an artesian well. During its first month of existence, the town of Parkston averaged one building per day put up.

By November 1886, the town's population was reported to be one hundred.

AVERA ST. BENEDICT HEALTH CENTER

On February 10, 1934, the Benedictine Sisters of Sacred Heart Convent, Yankton, SD, bought from Dr. J.L. Waldner, the then closed Waldner Hospital. The hospital contained 12 beds. Because of the excellent care, the number of people seeking care steadily increased, and in 1946 a new hospital wing opened. This expanded the hospital to 34 beds and 12 bassinets.

In 1955 the hospital received a Ford grant of $12,500 for modernization. Because of structural problems, it was decided in 1962 to build a new hospital. In 1965 a new 38-bed acute care hospital was opened to serve the health care needs of the community.

In 1987 the Sisters were approached by the Good Samaritans and asked if they were interested in carrying out the mission of long term care in Parkston. In August of 1988, St. Benedict purchased the Intermediate Long Term Care and the Supervised Living homes from the Good Samaritans and started the mission of long term care. The Intermediate Care building did not meet life safety codes, so a capital campaign and building project were started in September of 1988. The intermediate care facility would be attached to the surgical wing of the hospital. Construction was completed in November of 1989, and residents were moved into the facility in December of 1989. The entire complex was renamed St. Benedict Health Center.

In 1992 a 3,600 sq. ft. addition was added to the west of St. Benedict Health Center, which now houses a new and expanded diagnostic laboratory, a new expanded physical therapy service program and a new Medicare certified cardiac rehab program. Renovations and changes continue to try to meet ongoing changes and demands of consumers who we serve.

In 1996 a 9,300 sq. ft. Wellness/Cardiac Rehab facility was added. The cardiac rehab program was moved from the physical therapy area. All cardiac/pulmonary rehab, community wellness and a 20' x 40' life certified pool was added in the new facility offering a wide variety of wellness services to our facility.

In 1998 a new 4,000 sq. ft. addition to the front entrance of Avera St. Benedict Health Center was added along with the remodeling of the nurses' station, a new service room, an LDR labor delivery room, an enclosed ambulance garage, and a new spiral CT scanner was added to expand the diagnostic and specialty care services offered by Avera St. Benedict Health Center.

In December 2000 a new 8,000 sq. ft. new clinic was added and opened. It consists of 15 exam rooms with a new front entrance to make the clinic services more prominent in our overall operation.

In October 2001 a new 25-bed, 14,000 sq. ft. assisted living was dedicated and opened, and the old supervised living facility across town was closed. Two of the 25 beds are arranged in an apartment style. The remainders are single and double rooms, and all have either half baths or full baths with a very large commons area for dining, hobby kitchenette, activities and social functions. April 2006 completed a two year extensive remodeling project and addition of a new hospital wing with the purpose of patient and family centered healthcare featuring private rooms. The new enlarged nurses' station is now back to back with the business office for availability of patient information flow. Due to an ever-changing world, a door security system monitor was installed. Additional services of eICU, pharmacy/medication room manned by a part-time pharmacist, a special room for sleep studies, physicians' dictation area, negative air pressure room for infection control, and a telehealth system was set up for live consultations with physician specialists in Sioux Falls. In addition, the telehealth is used for the new services of infectious disease, dermatology, psychiatry, internal medicine, women's hormone replacement, pulmonology, and neonatal consults prior to transfer. The hospital now has two wings of all private rooms. A hall connects the two wings with a solarium featuring stained glass windows as a private family area or to allow patients time out of patient rooms. In the obstetric wing the nursery was completely remodeled to accommodate babies that have special needs.

Remodeling processes have begun in our Bormann Manor long term care facility.

CHURCHES

Salem UCC

The Salem Congregational Church, built on land donated by Christian Fischer, was located on the southeast corner of First and Maple Streets in 1901.

Hoffnungsburg Church, first built in 1890 and remodeled in 1927, sustained the building needs of the congregation until it disbanded on November 18, 1946.

Zion Congregational Church was organized August 31, 1884. A new church was built after a June 27, 1928, lightning strike causing serious damage to the old church. The last service was held December 20, 1947, with the congregation voting to disband a month earlier.

Friedensfeld Congregational Church was organized August 6, 1884. The first church was built in 1889 but was later destroyed by a storm. In 1901, the church was rebuilt and dedicated. The church disbanded on November 17, 1946.

It was during the pastorate of the Reverend Koehler that the three country churches disbanded and joined the Salem Congregation Church. A new church was built by a vote of 57 yes, 6 no. The ground breaking was held April 2, 1950, and the cornerstone was laid on June 18, 1950. The cornerstone contains church records, a Holy Bible and church literature. The church is also made of native South Dakota granite.

A group of workers assembled to help build the new church. The winter months of 1949-1950 were spent hauling materials to the present site. Between 20 and 25 Congregationalists worked through a blizzard on January 3, 1950, to unload three railcars containing 49,000 bricks for the new church.

Presbyterian Church

In November 1886, the first Parkston Presbyterian Church was organized with 21 charter members. In 1896 a church was built somewhere in Parkston and used until the congregation bought the Methodist Church in 1915. In 1968 the United Brethren took over until the church was disbanded in 1974.

Baptist Church

In 1894, the Baptist Church rented the American Baptist Church to hold their services. The Baptist Church later purchased American Baptist in 1899 for $600. The church grew to 105 members by their 50th Anniversary in 1943. The church received a memorial gift from the Pauline Pietz Estate, and with it, a new church was built north of town along Glynn Drive. The new church was dedicated on January 31, 1971.

Sacred Heart Catholic Church

On October 28, 1886, a contract was let, and the first Catholic Church was erected on the corner of Fourth and Ash Streets. On June 14, 1887, Rev. J. Lamesch celebrated the first Solemn High Mass.

Sacred Heart Catholic Church was built in 1904 by H. Jueb Construction of Minneapolis, and was designed by architect Joseph Schwartz of Sioux Falls. Schwartz's plans called for "the most pretentious and expensive church building for which he had ever prepared plans." The cost of the church was $20,240, which did not include heat, lighting, stained glass or rock for the basement.

The church's cornerstone was laid on Tuesday, May 10, 1904 at 2 pm with all businesses closed for two hours. A.F. Grimm, on behalf of the City of Parkston, extended a well-worded address of welcome to Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas O'Gorman, D.D. of Sioux Falls and the hundreds of visitors.

Sacred Heart School was erected in 1914 under Father Dahlmann at a cost of $25,000. The school formerly met in the old wooden church behind the 1904 structure. The nuns and students were boarded on the third and fourth floors. It was closed as a Catholic school in May 1971, used by the Public School from 1971 until 1979 and finally torn down in April 1986 at a cost of $20, 150.

On Sunday September 7, 1970 tornado-like winds struck and caused the lower steeple to be blown off and the roof damaged, resulting in a decision to replace the church.

Salem Lutheran

In 1890 a small Lutheran congregation was started and services were held in Meisenholder's Hardware Store. In 1892, a small frame church with a steep was erected. It was replaced August 28, 1898.

A larger church was necessary due to the disbandment of its sister parish of Rosenfeld, located six miles southeast of Parkston. Dedication to the Salem Lutheran Church was October 10, 1926. In 1951, Eigenfeld disbanded and joined the Parkston congregation as well. An education unit was added to the church in 1961 for Sunday school services.

Faith Lutheran

The first Faith Lutheran church service was held on October 1, 1956 in the meeting room of the County Building. Nineteen souls made up the charter membership. Services were held there until 1957 when the basement of the church was completed. Faith Lutheran Church was completed and dedicated on October 1, 1961.

SOUTH DAKOTA PROUD

Two valuable South Dakota products are made right here in Parkston, SD.

Nicole Heitzman was born in Aberdeen, South Dakota. Her family moved when she was about eight years old to a small town known as Ethan, SD. That is where she did most of her growing up. She graduated from Ethan High School, and from there she went on to college to study art and business at Northern State University in Aberdeen, SD. Art is a passion that she had always wanted to pursue. After college, she married and moved to the Heitzman farm just east of Parkston, SD.

Heitzman has been creating art since a very young age. Her love of art began the first moment she could hold a pencil. Heitzman believed that she acquired this talent from my parents. Both of them are artistic. Her mother Martha Huber runs a creative craft business known as Martha's Crafts. Martha's shop Small Town Country Show is open seasonally in Ethan, SD. Heitzman's dad is also creative. He did woodworking when Heitzman was a kid. She feels that she attained a lot of her creativity by watching her parents work and by receiving positive influences from many of the people around her.

Heitzman gradually developed her art into a certain style, which she considers to be fairly naturalistic. She began working on developing a style by painting anything she could. She eventually found herself painting things, animals, people, and places based on personal experiences and inspirations.

Her inspirations ultimately come from traveling. Each time she travels, Heitzman finds herself in absolute awe of the beauty of things and places around her. She said, "I find myself taking in as much beauty as possible so that I may come back to the studio to place onto canvas whatever rendition my mind captures of the things I have seen."

Heitzman has been working as a full time artist and photographer for a little over a year now. The works that she creates consist of canvas paintings, drawings, murals, hand painted craft items, and photography of people, animals, and scenery. The door of the art world has opened, and she is just stepping into the dream that she has longed to attain. She is looking forward to capturing the many splendors of life around her. She plans to continue creating artwork based on her inspirations for as long as she holds the passion in her heart.

Please see examples of Nicole Heitsman's work featured on www.madeinsouthdakota.com.
